

Women's Basketball Wins First Conference Game

By: Morgan Hansel

The Green Knight Women's Basketball Team played their first conference game of the season against the Concordia Wisconsin Falcons on Thursday, Nov. 4. The game was located at R. John Buuck Field House in Mequon, Wisconsin. The Green Knights picked up their first conference win, with a score of 54-44.

Both teams got off to a slow start in the beginning of the first quarter, but the Green Knights eventually found their rhythm. They took a lead over the Falcons and went up by as many as eight points halfway through the quarter. During the second half of the quarter, the Falcons chipped away at the Green Knights' lead, and the quarter ended with the Green Knights up 14-12.

The second quarter consisted of back and forth scoring between both teams. In fact, there were a total of eight lead changes. The Falcons tied the game 28-28 with a minute and a half left in the quarter, but two three pointers by the Green Knights gave them a six point lead to finish the half.

The Green Knights dominated the third quarter and earned themselves a comfortable lead. They maintained at least a six point lead throughout the entire quarter, but went up by as many as 12 points. They ended the third quarter up by 12 points, with a score of 51-39.

The fourth quarter of the game was very low scoring for both teams. The Green Knights only scored three points, and the Falcons scored five. The Green Knights' dominant third quarter, however, helped them secure a comfortable 10 point victory. The final score of the game was 54-44.

Emma Morrissey ('25) led the Green Knight offense with 15 points, followed by Casey Jepson ('25) who scored 12 points and Rose Hahn ('26) who scored 10 points. Additionally, Jepson went 3-3 on three point attempts. With this win, the Green Knight Women's Basketball Team improved their overall record to 5-1 and their conference record to 1-0. The Green Knights returned to practice to prepare for their next game against Concordia Chicago on Saturday, Dec. 7, 2024.
